

SUPPORT SUPPLY CHAIN REFORM

CARES brings together like-minded advocates who work together to affect change. There is no cost to join. By leveraging our strategic relationships, we raise awareness of potential threats to grid reliability.

CARES intersects all sectors of the supply chain to focus on grid reliability solutions and to stay ahead of unique challenges facing each sector.

CARES provides members opportunities to:

- Participate in stakeholder meetings
- Work with trade associations to develop solutions
- Leverage mutual aid and resource assistance
- Collaborate on strategic messaging

CARES is an advocacy group made up of key stakeholders in the electric industry including electric cooperatives, municipal utilities, suppliers, and manufacturers. Together, we leverage our collective voice to raise awareness of issues that threaten the reliability of our electric grid.

Through strategic engagement with policymakers at all levels, we hope to ensure that every American is provided with essential, reliable, and affordable electric service.

CARES advocacy has led to:

- Defense Production Act authorization
- RUS regulatory waivers
- ESCC Supply Chain Tiger Team Creation
- Federal legislation on supply chain issues
